Program Report

Program Name: Career counselling for students

Date: 23rd, 24th & 25th September 2019

Venue: Bhramagupta Auditorium, NCERC

Resource Person: Dr. Mallika Balakrishnan, Mithra Institute of Behavioural Science, Shoranur.

Pre face

Career counselling is customary to instill a sense of self confidence and motivation for the students before they embark on a career whether it is in engineering, business administration or computer application.

Program content

Dr. Mallika Balakrishnan, an experienced and expert in area of career counselling from Mithra Institute of Behavioural Science clearly handled the session very well which would definitely have improved the self esteem of the participants.

The session was organized as a power point presentation with active participation of the students. Matters related to stress and time management were very much explained in detail. This was followed by motivating talk on prospects of career in engineering, business administration and computer application and the associated challenges in getting promising jobs. Nearly 506 students (201 from first year, 214 from second year and 91 from third year) from NCERC participated in this 3 days training programme.
